

Category: Juvenile fiction

Ages: 10-14

Publication Date: March 26, 2024

ISBN: 979-8-9894754-0-7

Price: $12.99

Format: Paperback

Trim: 5.25 x 8    Pages: 256

ISBN: 979-8-9894754-2-1

Price: $20.99

Format: Hardcover

Trim: 5.5 x 8.5    Pages: 232

Ebook ASIN: B0CV9MN3YR3

Ebook Price: $7.00

Stephanie Brick, in addition to writing portal fantasy for middle grade readers, is a licensed architect. As a passionate and respected expert in salutogenic design, an evidence-based design strategy to improve human health and well-being in the built environment, she is especially dedicated to applying this design across military installations to improve the well-being of our service members.

The Secret Doors of Cannondale

Book One of The Cannondale Chronicles

Written by Stephanie Brick

An outcast girl looking to belong discovers a secret doorway to other realms in a thrilling portal fantasy novel for middle-grade readers.

When twelve-year-old Adeline Perle's transient military family finally plants roots in an old, creaky house—Cannondale—the girl craves to build the lasting friendships she never had as a constant outsider. At last, on the cusp of bonding with a new group of affable teens on Cannondale's grounds, Adeline discovers an unusual treasure behind a hidden door, unveiling a portal to other realms where she is confronted with magical creatures and disappearing people, good and evil, and a boy who's desperate to help her find her way back home.

A thrilling story of belonging, self-discovery, and survival—the first installment in a trilogy.

Paperback / Hardcover / eBook / Audiobook available for purchase wherever fine books are sold!

Author  stephaniebrick.com/secretdoors
contact:  CannondaleChronicles@gmail.com